

WEBSTER SAYS HE KILLED "VAMPIRE"

AN UNUSUAL PLEA IS PROPOSED BY ATTORNEYS FOR DEFENSE.

REPUDIATES HIS STATEMENTS

Defendant Acknowledges an Earlier and Third Marriage, Later Denying Story.

The unwritten law is to be twisted into a new form in an effort to save Dr. Harry Elgin Webster, self-confessed wife slayer.

The physician hopes to save himself by blackening the character of the wife he committed bigamy to marry, by picturing her as a vampire and pleading that he did the world a service by taking her life.

To carry out this plan he held a long conference with his lawyers in his cell at Oregon yesterday, shaping all his actions accordingly.

He repudiated the 10,000 word confession made in Chicago Sunday afternoon. He then charged that Bessie Kent Webster, the wife whose life he took, repeatedly had threatened to kill him.

The "defense" was rounded out by the assertion that Dr. Webster finally was forced to take her life in self-defense—that she was the aggressor in the fight that led to her death.

"Third" Wife Is Found.

At the very moment he was making this statement, however, discovery that he had been married before he met either Bessie Kent or Zoe Varney, heretofore accepted as his first and second wives, was made in Chicago. The third wife to be discovered, in reality his first, was Mae B. Graff, 5960 Princeton avenue, whom he married Nov. 2, 1904.

Court records were found that showed he had eloped to Racine, Wis. They returned to Chicago and started housekeeping at 62nd street and Monroe avenue.

Webster, then a student at the University of Chicago, was working as a waiter in the Hollenden hotel. Miss Graff was employed in a furniture house in the loop.

The only change the marriage made in their work was that Webster gave up his job as waiter. He was satisfied, however, according to Miss Graff, to permit her to support him while he continued his education.

But this plan did not appeal to the young wife. After continued quarrels, she said, he deserted her. It was the charge of desertion that led the trial judge to grant her a decree of divorce.

Mrs. Webster the first has since remarried and now lives in Omaha. Her maiden name was granted in her decree.

Webster said that he was a waiter at the time and that it was only a boy's love affair.

"After we found that we were not suited to each other we separated," he said. "I have been married three times. The first time it was a kid's love affair, the second was real love and the third was hell."

He gave no further details of the first marriage.

Later Denies Marriage.

Later Webster denied this early marriage and disposed of the whole story with the statement that he never had married Miss Graff.

"It isn't true," he said. I never loved any body but Zoe Varney and she is my wife today."

"But the records plainly show you married Miss Graff and were divorced from her," was suggested by the inquisitor.

"Well, it isn't true," said the prisoner. "Anyway, what difference does it make if I had a dozen wives? I can tell you that it isn't true."

Divorce Plan Blows.

The hardest blow the prisoner has had to bear thus far was the announcement that suit for divorce was to be started immediately by Mrs. Zoe Varney Webster, wife No. 2, according to the latest developments.

"Are you certain of that?" he asked.

"So her father says," he was informed.

"Then I don't care what happens to me," Dr. Webster replied. "I am willing to go to the gallows if I have been convicted in Zoe's mind. If I have been spurned by Zoe there is nothing more in life for me. I swear that I have never loved any woman but Zoe."

Then Dr. Webster went into the first of a series of conferences with Francis Callahan, attorney, who will defend him.

Form "Vampire" Defense.

Together they outlined the defense by which they hope to prove the murdered woman represented all that is bad in a great city and that Webster played the part of an unsophisticated country boy who knew nothing of the ways of women and the world—her victim at every turn.

The lawyer expects to show that Bessie Kent was a vampire who sought to get the best of the country boy, use him for her own purposes and finally convert him to her financial gain. It was for this purpose, the physician repeatedly asserted, that she desired to get the license showing her to be a married woman.

Picture Lacks Force.

Discovery of one more wife, however, gave a blow to this part of the defense. An "unsophisticated country boy" who had been married had been supported by a young wife who was working for her own living, and finally had been divorced because he deserted her, did not make quite as convincing a picture as the lawyer had hoped to paint for the jury.

Following out this new role, Webster made statements that were far different from those told in Sunday's confession, in which he told of carrying a suit case at the fleeing woman, whom he later stabbed to death. He evaded or refused to answer questions.

"I was forced to make that confession in the Chicago avenue police station," he said. "I was questioned by so many people and so confused that I didn't know half of the time what I was doing. I will have to think matters over before I can say just what did happen."

Lawyer Is Put Out.

In order that there might be no conflicting statements, Mr. Callahan sought to spend the entire day in a cell with Webster. Sheriff Delaney objected to this.

"I have every right to be here with my client, and I am going to remain," said the lawyer, edging in to the cell occupied by Webster.

"Well, we haven't got any beds for lawyers, and I'm not going to have you here," said the sheriff.

Whereupon he placed his shoulder under the lawyer's chin and lifted him more effectively than gently. Callahan took the first train to Chicago, vowing all sorts of vengeance for the "outrage."

Both men stepped out on one of the eye beams, but the swinging lever reached them, striking Davis in the back of the head with terrific force, knocking him into the creek bottom 16 feet below, in falling Davis struck against Smith, pulling him down also.

It was later discovered that Davis is not Davis, the real Davis being at work in Chicago. The officials reported that the real Davis had allowed the man now lying unconscious in the hospital to use his working card. The name of the injured man, as a result, is unknown to the officials.

HARRISON AND HART ARE ALLOWED $386 BY JURY TUESDAY.

LIGHTED MATCHES DOWN BACK

Charges of Cruelty Made by Mrs. Alma J. Hopkins in Suit for Divorce.

Benjamin Murphy, a young man who was injured some time ago on the C. & N. W. railroad, was this morning awarded damages to the amount of $1,500 by a jury in the Lee county circuit court. The settlement of the case had been agreed upon, but a jury verdict was asked to get a legal record of the action. Attorneys Cliff & Cliff of Sycamore and Clyde Smith of this city represented the plaintiff while Dixon & Dixon of this city, appeared for the railroad company.

Hart and Harrison Win.

The jury in the case of Hart and Harrison vs. Haub, which was tried yesterday, returned late in the afternoon with a verdict finding the issues for the plaintiff and assessing the damages at $386.

Sues for Divorce.

Putting lighted matches down a wife's neck is the latest form of cruelty, but that such procedure had been practiced is affirmed by Mrs. Alma J. Hopkins of Amboy, who yesterday afternoon through her attorney, W. H. Winn of this city, filed suit for divorce from her husband, Walter H. Hopkins, who is now living in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Hopkins affirms that she was married to the defendant at Sterling March 30, 1900, and that they lived together until August 20, 1911 when, because of his habitual drunkenness and cruelty, of which putting lighted matches down her neck and beating her were items, she was forced to leave him, taking with her the two youngest children, aged 8 and 6 years. The oldest child, aged 19, was kept by the father.

The plaintiff asks for a bill enjoining her husband from taking the two children she has with her, and also prays for alimony with which to support the children.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL STRIKER KILLED

SHOT IN ATTACK ON RAILROAD SHOPS AT MCCOMB CITY, MISSISSIPPI.

There is a habit and a delusion among a large number of our people to go to some nearby town or city to shop, believing they can purchase cheaper. We think these good people may be hoodwinked by their own idea. Please reckon your carfare and time, if the latter is worth anything. If our town merchants try to "soak" you or have not what you want, of course you are justified to go elsewhere. But first find out by getting prices and see what your home merchants have.

WEBSTER INDICTED; TO MAKE PLEA MONDAY

WEBSTER'S VICTIM.

Woman Who Was Murdered by the Physician Near Dixon, Ill.

SMASHED BOTH REAR WHEELS OF AUTO

ROBERT NELSON COLLIDED ON BRIDGE WITH STREET CAR.

Robert Nelson, plumber, came to grief in his Maxwell automobile last evening about 5:30 o'clock on the Galena avenue bridge. His car added and ran foul of a street car, smashing up the auto and throwing Mr. Nelson about twelve feet into the air against a girder with considerable force. His neck was badly strained, but his injuries are said to be only temporary.

Nelson was just starting across the bridge, going north, as the street car was about to leave the bridge, going south. Nelson, according to George Netts, was driving about 15 miles an hour. Netts stood in the window of Jim Boyer's shop and saw the accident. He says the wheels of the Maxwell, which are small, got caught in the street car tracks. The tracks and the floor of the bridge being "greasy" from the rains and mud, caused the car to add around and it was crashed into by the front of the oncoming car, the motor-man of which was looking for no such maneuvers on the part of the auto, and therefore did not lessen his speed much, although he was not going fast, for all cars stop just beyond the end of the bridge to throw the block switch and tag for trains.

The two rear wheels of the auto loosened and in fact the entire rear were completely demolished and the back axle was ruined. The seat was half of the car will have to be replaced.

Reports from Springfield are to the effect that 52 counties of the state are represented in the exhibit and that the affair is a grand success. The railroad company is taking excellent care of the boys, furnishing sleeping headquarters in a sleeping car and giving them their meals in a diner.

BARN IN CASE IS SEARCHED

Repeated Rumors of Clothing Hidden in Barn Are Dispelled by Investigation.

BULLETIN

4:10 P. M.

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 4.—Dr. Webster, who was indicted by the grand jury this afternoon for murder, was brought into court at 4 o'clock accompanied by his attorneys, Erwin of Dixon and Callahan of Chicago. He refused to make any plea at this time, and was furnished with a copy of the indictment and the list of jurors, as provided by law. He will be brought into court again on Monday, at which time he will plead to the charge against him.

BULLETIN

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 4.—Special.—One of the newspaper men here today states that in an interview this afternoon with Dr. Webster in his cell at the jail, the doctor admitted that he killed his wife. This report has been discredited.

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 4.—Special to The Telegraph.—Dr. H. E. Webster, confessed wife murderer, was this afternoon indicted by the Ogle county grand jury which has been in session this week, and which is expected will adjourn this afternoon. The indictment is for murder.

Since the confession of Dr. H. E. Webster, there have been many who have believed that the barn at the rear of the Webster home, East Fellows street, might have been used by the murderer to conceal the clothing of the dead woman and other evidence of his crime, and since that time many have asked that the barn be searched.

The officers have not deemed it necessary to look into the barn, but this morning, more to quiet the talk than anything else, representatives of the Telegraph and a Chicago paper, obtained permission to enter the barn from C. F. Andres, the renter, and he allowed the investigation.

Mr. Andres reported that he had rented the barn for several years, and that it had always been locked, and the windows nailed up. However, the search of the barn revealed nothing. An old stove, which had been stored there, was found full of ashes and in the ashes were found a large number of hairpins, some corset stays and a buckle from a garter. But as there were old papers in the stove which had not been burned and the Andre family report that the stove was not cleaned out before it was stored in the barn, the finding of such articles in the stove can have no significance.

Erwin Engaged. Attorney John E. Erwin of this city was yesterday engaged as counsel for Dr. H. E. Webster, confessed wife murderer, who is in the county jail at Oregon, awaiting the action of the grand jury, and he went to that city this morning to confer with his client.

A number of local people have come to the Ogle county seat today, drawn there by the report that Webster's case was to come before the grand jury today, and the report was confirmed to this paper by Sheriff Delaney of Ogle county.

The prisoner's repudiation of his confession, his later statement that he had killed Mrs. Bessie Kent Webster in self-defense, and his subsequent statement that he didn't care what happened when he heard Mrs. Zoe Varney Webster had renounced him, have caused the Ogle county officials to change their plans, and the case against Webster will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Held Reception

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Garland of Nelson township was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last Thursday afternoon when neighbors and friends numbering twenty, gathered there despite the rainy weather and held a reception for Miss Mary McInerney, who left Oct. 1, for Chicago, where she will reside. The afternoon hours were pleasantly spent in music and a social time was enjoyed. Mrs. J. F. Sutton, in behalf of the assembled guests, presented Miss McInerney with a handsome gold brooch as a token of regard.

The guest of honor responded with a few words of thanks and appreciation for the kindnesses shown by her friends. During the afternoon refreshments were served and the guests dispersed after wishing Miss McInerney happiness in her new home.

At Mrs. Burnett's Home

The Young Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church was delightfully entertained on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. L. Burnett, with thirty-eight members present. Mrs. Burnett opened the interesting program with a reading and was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. W. E. Trein, which added much to the effectiveness of the reading. Mrs. Stone read from a leaflet a touching story, "Two of Our African Women." Mrs. Blake Grover delighted everyone present with a piano solo. The birthdays of five of the members occur in the present month of October, and on Tuesday evening each possessor of such birthday was presented with a birthday cake. These fortunate people were Miss Flora Seals, Miss Bess Decker, Miss Imo Shelhamer, and Ellis Breed who is an honorary member of the society. Other delicious light refreshments were enjoyed and after a very happy evening, the company dispersed.

Blackburn-Gehant.

Miss Josephine Blackburn of Harmon and Oliver L. Gehant of West Brooklyn were united in marriage at 9 o'clock this morning, Oct. 4, at St. Flannen's church in Harmon by Rev. Thomas Smith. They were attended by Miss Elizabeth Blackburn, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Henry W. Gehant a brother of the groom, as best man. Miss Nellye Long presided at the organ.

The ladies wore white messaline silk, richly trimmed in lace. The bride carried a handsome bouquet of brides roses and her sister carried carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, at which an excellent wedding feast was served and partaken of by about 300 relatives and friends. Both church and home were elegantly decorated, and at the home many beautiful and costly presents were received.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blackburn of Harmon and the groom is the eldest son of ex-Representative Henry F. Gehant and wife of West Brooklyn. The groom is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame and holds the position of assistant cashier of the Gehant banking institution in his home town. He is widely known throughout the county, for besides his position in the bank, he is one of the editors of the West Brooklyn News and also a successful insurance writer.

Both bride and groom are social favorites in their home towns. They came to Dixon following the wedding reception and left here to visit at several points in Illinois, and will then go east, stopping at Notre Dame for a visit at the university. They will be at home after December 1st in West Brooklyn in the new home now being erected by the groom on First street.

Cut Big Cake

Yesterday afternoon at the E. J. Ferguson hardware store, Mr. Murphy, demonstrating the Majestic range, baked an immense cake, 18x20 inches. The layers were square and just the size of the oven. There were six layers and the cake was baked thoroughly. It was crushed by a plank being placed on it and four or five ladies stood on the plank, which, by the way, was a fine new board. On removing the board the cake came up again, showing it had been perfectly cooked. This reception was at 2:30 in the afternoon. The cake was cut and over 100 people sampled it. It was a jelly sponge cake with powdered sugar on top of it and those who tested and tasted it say it was delicious.

Phidian Art Club.

The Phidian Art club met Tuesday afternoon with Miss Elizabeth Barge in North Dixon.

Mrs. L. E. Edwards assisted by Miss Myrtle Rice, furnished a very delightful and interesting musical program. Among the numbers given during the afternoon were two piano duets, "Spanish Dance," by Otto Mertz, and "Marche De Fete," by Barrell, and Miss Rice also gave a piano solo, a double number, "Conzonetta," by Wexley and "Mazurka Romantique" by Osgood. These numbers were certainly appreciated by the ladies.

Mrs. E. E. Wingert, the president in her address, spoke of the vastness of the subject of Art in England for one year's study and spoke especially of landscape in English poetry. She said that poetry was the highest form of Art and that no country had ever equalled England in this particular.

Miss Anna Woodbridge, who was one of the delegates to the meeting of the District Federation of Women's clubs held in Amboy during the summer, gave a very able account of this gathering of women. She told briefly of the helpful addresses on the program and the good reports given by the delegates from the different clubs of the district.

She did not nor could not forget the courteous and hospitable treatment received from the ladies of the Amboy Women's club and the programs and entertainments provided by them and Amboy people for the delegates and visiting friends.

Just before the closing number of music Miss Barge was called and in a few well chosen words Mrs. Louis Steel in behalf of the club presented her with a beautifully engraved spoon as a token of love and good wishes.

The company was then invited to the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

At Ferguson Home.

W. W. Wasson of Pontias, is a guest at the E. J. Ferguson home. Mr. Wasson is the father of Mrs. Ferguson.

With Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Downing will entertain with a dinner this evening for Miss Nan Hunt. There will be twelve guests.

Dramatic Notes

FAMILY THEATRE

The audiences at the Family theatre are being highly entertained the first half of the week by two rapid fire vaudeville acts, Somers & Storke present Jackson's Honeymoon, as a prelude to their excellent xylophone playing. This team seems to have the idea of rapid action down to a science, for the sketch goes like a fire alarm and it gets the audience laughing at the start, handing out the comedy so quickly that the laughs can't well die out.

Sweeney & Rooney give a singing and dancing act that is almost as much of a whirlwind as the other. Many novel steps are used in their dancing and their ladder dance is something entirely new. This will be the last night to see these two good acts.

DIXON OPERA HOUSE.

Upon launching "Fatty Felix" the laughing comedy drama with music this season, Henry W. Link, manager, determined to try a new and decided novelty in the way of a high priced show at popular prices. The result has been successful beyond expectations. Fatty Felix has been playing to bigger business throughout the country than it did in past seasons when it was charging high prices. The attraction will be at the Dixon opera house Oct. 6, so don't miss seeing Fatty and enjoying a hearty laugh.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Big crowds gather at the Princess every night because they know the claim of good pictures every night is true and that they will not be disappointed. The pictures for tonight are extra good. Desert's Lure is a western drama with lots of excitement and western scenery. The Sheriff's Mistake is another western drama, and The Plan That Failed is a comedy that will make all laugh. The last picture is entitled Court's Decree and is a detective story showing a big court scene.

Mrs. J. T. Gilbert of Franklin Grove is a visitor in this city today.

WEBSTER WAS BORN NEAR FREEPORT

SPENT HIS CHILDHOOD NEAR THE VILLAGE OF WINSLOW.

FAMILY IS OF HIGH STANDING

First Marriage Performed by Uncle, Rev. I. Divan, Formerly of Dixon

Winslow, Oct. 3.—Dr. Harry Webster, arrested for wife murder, was born in Oneco township, near what is known as the Bresler school house about three and one half miles south east of Winslow. His father, George Webster, was also born near Winslow. David J. Webster, now living in Winslow is an uncle, as is also Rev. Walter Ballenger, formerly of Winslow, and Rev. Isaac Divan of Forreston.

Young Webster attended school when a small boy at the Bresler school. His parents moved to Nebraska about twenty years ago and have only lived in Dixon for about twelve years.

Stanley Webster, who formerly clerked in the Swartz drug store in Freeport, is a cousin.

Family of Preachers.

Young Webster comes from the very best of families, on the Ballenger as well as the Webster side. Rev. Albion Ballenger and Rev. Edward Webster, both formerly of this place, are cousins, as was Miss Ida Ballenger who taught school for a number of years in our public school.

Miss Della Webster of this place is a relative as is Charles Webster formerly druggist here, but who now owns a drug store in Chicago, it is said. Charles will assist the young man in his trouble.

Married By Rev. Divan.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Oct. 1.—"There must be some mistake, Dr. Webster would not be married to another woman besides my daughter, because he is the soul of honor, and I know my girl is, too," pathetically declared Mrs. Wm. E. Varney at her home in this city this afternoon.

"My daughter left last night for Chicago to prove that she is the lawful wife of Dr. Webster," she continued.

In these statements she was corroborated by the girl's father, who declared he would bring suit for damages against any one who made false statements about "my Zoe."

The marriage of Miss Zoe Varney of this city to Dr. Webster took place in the Varney home in Central park, Jan. 4, 1911. Rev. Isaac Divan of Forreston, uncle of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a few neighboring families. It was the culmination of a romance begun when Miss Varney was studying vocal and instrumental music in Chicago.

Dr. Webster visited her boarding house to see another girl and became infatuated with the pretty music teacher. He came here to see her several times prior to the ceremony and made a good impression.

After the wedding they left for Webster's home in Dixon and a few days later the young bride returned alone. She gave out that as Dr. Webster was an interne at the hospital and married men could not hold that position, the news of their marriage in Chicago must be kept secret. He had not visited her since, but had asked her to come to Chicago today, as it would be his "Sunday off."

The Varneys are well to do people. They moved to Cedar Rapids three years ago from Wellman, Ia.

My Message to Men

I will cure you in the shortest possible time at the least possible cost for the service of a specialist. Consult me free before placing your case.

I ACCEPT ONLY CURABLE CASES AND GUARANTEE EVERY CASE I ACCEPT.

I want to talk to every sufferer from BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASES NERVO-VITAL DEBILITY, STRICTURE AND PROSTATIC DISEASES VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, PILES, KIDNEY, BLADDER AND ALL DISEASES PECULIAR TO MEN. The fact that you have treated elsewhere with out benefit and are skeptical does not discourage me in the least. Nearly every patient tells of the same experience. I am curing these men every ally and feel sure I can do the same for you. I especially solicit these stubborn, chronic, seemingly incurable cases. Men who realize the seriousness and gravity of their condition and will appreciate benefits conferred and the lasting cure I give, come to me for free consultation. I will then explain how different, better and more curative are my methods and treatment than those possessed by others. My special training and experience in treating all chronic, Nervous, Blood and Special Diseases and Weakness of Men, give me many advantages over the ordinary physician. If afflicted it is well worth your while to come hundreds of miles to consult me, rather than subject yourself to dangerous experimental treatment.

Many men come to me and not one has ever had cause to regret. My sympathy is enlisted with every patient. The curing and building up of weak, broken-down men is my work. The welfare and cure of my patients is my only thought. My financial condition makes the "secondary consideration. In this I differ widely from the doctor who thinks only of his fee and cares nothing for the suffering of his fellowmen. In a private before reaching elsewhere; it may save many years of suffering and the means of hanging your whole future.

Are You a Wreck or a Man?

Come to Me and I Will Cure You.

GUARANTEES CURES—Many patients have told me after I have cured them, that they hesitated at first to come account of never having received relief elsewhere, and that they had almost become so skeptical as to think there was no cure for them. I want an opportunity to treat just such men, and it makes no difference about the financially

PUP BITES OFF ELGIN GIRL'S NOSE

INDICATIONS ARE UNFORTUNATE GIRL WILL BE DISFIGURED FOR LIFE.

Elgin, Oct. 4.—Attacking its mistress while she was asleep on a couch in her home, a pet bull terrier bit off the nose of Miss Elsie Stoddard, a prominent society girl. Physicians have sewed the member back onto the girl's face, but the indications are that the operation will be a failure.

Miss Stoddard was taking a nap and the pup was lying on a rug in the room. Previously it had displayed ugly tendencies but was not believed to be dangerous. It leaped upon the couch, sank its teeth into her nose and jerked the member loose. Physicians found it hanging by a thread of skin to the bone.

Miss Stoddard is well known and is a member of the Whilmet club and King's Daughters, exclusively social organizations.

ELDENA

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shank left Monday morning for their home in Somerset, Pa.

Mrs. C. D. Shoemaker and Mrs. Geo. Shoemaker spent several days visiting friends in Sterling last week.

Wedding bells were ringing in Eldena last week. Stanley Noble and Della Langle were married at the home of Mr. Noble's sister, Mrs. Ralph Howard. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bly at the Evangelical parsonage at 2 o'clock on Tuesday. Just a few of the nearest relatives were present. A wedding dinner was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Noble went to housekeeping on Mr. Noble's farm in May township.

Henry Shippert and Grace McLaughlin stole a march on their many friends and were quietly married during the Sterling fair. Friends supposed they were going to the fair, but instead they went to Clinton, Ill., and were married there. No one knew anything about it until they went to housekeeping last week on Mr. Shippert's farm. We all wish them a happy and prosperous life.

The boys had a double charivari last week. Mr. Shippert and Mr. Noble both thought the boys could make lots of noise. They both treated the boys to cigars and candy. There will be preaching in Eldena church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. Bly, and at the Kingdom in the evening.

HERE FROM EAST

ENJOYING VISIT

Wilbur Wareham and wife Margaret, of Pittsburg, Pa., are visiting at the Lloyd-Purcell home in Nelson. Neither one of this rather youthful twain have been in the west before, and therefore see many wonderful things. To them the air in Dixon seems thin and insipid compared with the denser and more discernible atmosphere in Pittsburg. Although she lives in Pittsburg, Margaret is a perfect blond. She has never before been in the country and for years has been "just dying" to visit the great west. While passing through Ohio she saw a flock of goats. Turning to hubby she exclaimed, "Oh, Wilbur, just look at those hogs! I didn't know hogs looked like that. Got whiskers, haven't they?"

Now Wilbur has seen more of the country, mostly mountainside, from a cab window in a locomotive; so he explains things to Margaret. A few mornings since he was overheard telling her how the farmers in the west no longer use the old-fashioned husking pin to pick the feathers off the corn. Their relatives here are enjoying their visit immensely.

SUFFERED AGONY WITH ITCHING

And Burning. Sores Like Boils All Over Body. Parts of Flesh Raw. Could Scarcely Bear Clothes On. Nearly Worn Out When He Tried Cuticura Remedies and Was Cured.

"About four years ago I broke out with sores on my arms like boils. After two months they were all over my body, some coming, and some going away. In about six months the boils quit, but my arms, neck and body broke out with an itching, burning rash. It would burn and itch, and come out in pimples like grains of wheat. I was in a terrible condition; I could not sleep or rest. Parts of my flesh were raw, and I could scarcely bear my clothes on. I could not lie in bed in any position and rest. In about a year the sores extended down to my feet. Then I suffered agony with the burning, itching sores. I could hardly walk and for a long time I could not put on socks.

"All this time I was trying everything I could hear of, and had the skill of three doctors. They said it was eczema. I got no benefit from all this. I was nearly worn out, and had given up in despair of ever being cured when I was advised by a friend to try Cuticura Remedies. I purchased Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and used exactly as directed. I used the Cuticura Remedies constantly for four months, and nothing else, and was perfectly cured. It is now a year, and I have not had the least bit since. I am ready to praise the Cuticura Remedies at any time." (Signed) E. L. Case, Esq., Ky., Nov. 10, 1910.

Our Majestic Range has been in use about 20 YEARS and it bakes just fine and grates are in first class conditions and if I ever need another stove it will be a Majestic.—MRS. HENRY JULY, Amboy.

I have had and used it continuously summer and winter for 18 or more years and can safely say it is as good as the best. The only fault it has, it bakes with such a little fire, it is hard to bake and cook at the same time.—MRS. EMMA HECKMAN.

Our range is No 8345. It is one of the best stoves I ever used. We have used it for eight years, no repairs of any kind. For baking or cooking it can't be beat. We can't say enough for the Majestic.—MRS. E. H. FISCHER.

Set of Ware

FREE

If you call at our store during our Majestic Demonstration Week and allow us to show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great Majestic Range, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give you Free the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range bought during the demonstration week only.

Reasons Why The Great Majestic You Should Buy

First, It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy. Second, It not only has the reputation but IS the best range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.

Third, It is constructed of malleable iron, material you can't beat, and of Charcoal Iron, material that resists rust 300 per cent greater than steel, a riveter together air tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters the range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.

Fourth, The reservoir alone is worth the price of range. The other reservoir made, it boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left hand lining, and is movable and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear it. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.

Majestic ranges use less fuel; heat more water—and heat it better; cost practically nothing for repairs; lasts three times as long; bakes better; easier to keep clean and gives better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you know positively that the above statements are true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic at once?

Come in Demonstration Week and we will prove it to you.

BLISS KNAPP ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCEDELIVERED LECTURE UNDER AUSPICES OF LOCAL SOCIETY

Bliss Knapp, C. S. B., member of the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, delivered a lecture on pieces of the local society Monday evening in the People's church. He was given a good hearing and all were very much interested in his discourse. The lecturer was introduced by City Attorney Mark Keller. In the course of his address Mr. Knapp said:

It is recorded that Jesus could "do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do." The ability of this gentle Nazarine to obliterate disease and sin was, therefore, the result of what he knew about God and surely he knew more about God than any other man who ever trod the globe. The ability of his disciples to perpetuate Christian healing was also the result of what Jesus taught them about God. Even so, the ability of a Christian Scientist to heal the sick and sinning through prayer, is wholly due to a better understanding of God, who is divine Principle of man's existence. This is in agreement with the Scriptural command to "Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace."

One of the earliest ways of gaining an insight into the realm of God was given by Moses in the Ten Commandments. He led people to think of the divine nature as manifested not through a form, but through well defined laws. Idolatry had its origin in thinking of God as a form. As divine Principle, manifesting His power, intelligence, and loving kindness through well defined laws, He can be understood.

The first case of healing that led to the discovery of Christian Science was that of Mrs. Eddy. She had met with an accident which those about her considered must result fatally. She was always a devout student of the Bible, and when confronted by that experience she naturally turned to her Bible for some comfort and consolation, and there, while she was studying the Scriptural passages she suddenly seized upon their spiritual meaning and was instantly healed. This was in the year 1866. She recognized for the first time that her health was not a personal possession, to be lost or impaired, but that it was the gift of God, as indestructible as God Himself, and that God had no more purpose of withdrawing that health than He had of withdrawing goodness or honesty. She was liberated, freed by the spiritual recognition of this Truth. She could then say with Paul "the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death." It was indeed a wonderful experience, so wonderful, in fact, that she had difficulty in explaining it to those about her. Then she recognized that she never could explain it properly until she more thoroughly understood its Principle and rule of action.

She therefore resumed her study of the Bible for a period of years, until finally she rediscovered that same divine law that communicates the healing power of God to humanity. She proceeded to write out her observations concerning this law, and these writings formed the basis of the more complete record known as "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," first published in the year 1875.

The last chapter of this textbook, called "Fruitage," contains a hundred pages of testimonials in evidence of the fact that the simple study of the book has healed such diseases as consumption, locomotor ataxia, cancers, tumors, curvature of the spine, and so on. In recognition of her distinguished services the French government has honored Mrs. Eddy by causing M. Briand, at that time minister of public instruction and fine arts, to decorate Mrs. Eddy officer of the French Academy. It is a most fitting way of recognizing in her a worthy interpreter of the Bible. This Christian Science text-book is not a Bible, and it can never displace the Bible. Its sole purpose is so to unlock the spiritual meaning of the Bible as to reveal the power of its eternal truths, in order that all may employ them for healing and reformation.

DISABLED ENGINES
LAID TO STRIKERSILLINOIS CENTRAL OFFICIALS
DISTURBED BY FREEPORT SITUATION.

MAILS DELAYED OVER AN HOUR

Insertion of Iron Bar and Sand in Bearings Damaged Engines at Freeport.

Freeport, Oct. 4.—Special.—The I. C. strike here assumed a serious aspect last night when unknown parties inserted a small iron bar between the guide bars of engine 2049, which pulls passenger train No. 4 between here and Chicago. Damage resulted when the engine was started. The trick caused a delay of an hour and fifteen minutes. The serious part is that the U. S. mail was delayed to that time, and government officials will probably investigate.

Engine 2049 was practically put out of commission and it will be some time before it can be repaired.

The engine was backing down into the yards when someone stole up to the engine and put the iron bar between the guiding rods. Another engine had to be secured to take its place.

Sand in Lubricating Oil.

This was not the only trouble last evening. Someone placed sand in the lubricating oil in one of the new engines with the result that the inside of the cylinders was badly cut.

The officials have issued orders to the special agents to keep all men out of the yards unless they are going to work or are there on business. This is believed will keep the unemployed men away from the company's property and will prevent repetition of last evening's work.

Twenty Detectives Here.

W. E. Briggs is in charge of the special agents and there are at present about 20 of them stationed in the yards.

Six machinists, four boilermakers, four carmen and two machinists helpers arrived here from Chicago last evening and were put to work this morning.

Several Foremen Quit.

Several of the foremen also walked out yesterday.

It was rumored last evening that a car inspector by the name of Deemer had been badly beaten by strikers but this report could not be verified this morning.

BURGLARS ENTERED
WENKLE RESIDENCEHIGHLAND AVENUE HOME ENTERED, BUT INTRUDERS
FRIGHTENED AWAY.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Al. Wenkle, Highland avenue and Seventh street, was entered by burglars at about 9 p. m. Sunday, but the robber or robbers were frightened away before they had secured anything. The family heard the prowlers in the basement and immediately summoned neighbors to assist them. In the meantime, it is supposed, the would-be burglars heard the commotion and made their escape.

HAS TAKEN 57 TURKISH SHIPS

Turks Have Captured Only Three Italian Boats—People of Turkey Are Calm Almost to Apathy, While Politicians Fight.

Rome, Oct. 4.—Italy is unwilling at present to bring the war to a close, your correspondent learns. She expects Turkey to make the first overtures for peace and will insist on dictating terms.

Since the declaration of war, Italy has captured fifty-seven Turkish vessels. Turkish has taken three Italian boats.

Constantinople, Oct. 4.—There is a complete internal and political confusion and lack of trustworthy news from Tripoli and the Adriatic coast. There is a disorganization of the telegraph. Among the baseless rumors is one of a strong movement looking to the impeachment of the late cabinet by the deputies.

Said Pasha, the new grand vizier, insists upon freedom from the domination of the secret committee cabal. The hitherto all powerful young Turks' committee is fighting to keep Kismil Pasha out of power, while the people are calm to a state of apathy. The chief of police says "the mob will only rise under command and there is no one to give the word."

Five more Turkish destroyers have been reported safe in the Dardanelles.

WEBSTER IS INDICTED

Repudiates Confession.

The repudiation of his confession that he killed his wife leaves States Attorney Emerson with little direct evidence connecting the prisoner with his bigamous wife's death. The report that he would "tell all he knew" to the grand jury is denied.

An alibi is the physician's defense, announced after a long conference with his attorney, Frank Callahan. The doctor said he had five persons who would swear he was in Chicago at the time his wife is reported to have been slain and her nude body thrown into the ravine northeast of Dixon.

Trace Second Slaying

The Chicago police resumed work on the case and are trying to find out where Dr. Webster was the night Jennie Cleghorn was murdered and her body mutilated in her home, 54 West Seventeenth street, Jan. 1, 1910. Mrs. Cleghorn, at that time in financial straits, had once been considered wealthy. No motive was discovered for the murder, which was attributed to a medical student, because of the unusual mutilation of the body.

Auto No. 6,832 New Clew.

Both the state and the defense had considerable new evidence today. The state's most important clew was the identification of an automobile seen Saturday, the day of the crime, near the place where the body was found.

Michael Drew, a farmer, said he noticed the car especially as it was a unusual place for an empty car to be standing. He says it was a Buick and bore the number 6,832 Ill. A search for the owner of the car and information as to who used it last Saturday is being made. Superintendent Baldwin of the North Dixon schools states that he saw an automobile standing back of the barn at the Webster home in Dixon Saturday at noon, but could not identify the car.

Hinges on Confession.

States Attorney Emerson feels certain that he will be able to get Dr. Webster's confession before a jury, and depending upon this he has worked up very little evidence. He is not positive that he can prove even that Dr. Webster was not in Chicago, as claimed, on the day the physician's wife was slain. So the confession remains the main factor in the case.

LEARNS OF SUDDEN
DEATH OF FATHERTHE PARENT OF MISS FREDA
TREASHER OF THIS CITY
DIES IN CHICAGO

Henry Treasher, father of Miss Freda Treasher of this city, was found dead in bed yesterday at his home in Chicago. He was ill some months ago with diabetes, but was thought recovered. He leaves two sons, Arthur of Chicago, and Raymond of Sterling, and Miss Freda Treasher of this city. His wife died some years ago. The family years ago lived in Prairieville and then went to Chicago. Mr. Treasher for some time was employed in Dixon, eventually going back to Chicago to work for the McCormick company. He was a man of fine lovable character and had many friends in this city who will regret his sudden demise and sympathize with his sons and daughter. The body will be taken to Sterling tomorrow at noon, the inquest over the sudden death being held today. The funeral will be held from the home of his sister, Miss Anna Treasher in Sterling, at 217 Fourth avenue, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

JURY DID NOT
INDICT MRS. ENGLERECOMMEND, HOWEVER, THAT INQUIRY BE MADE AS TO HER SANITY.

The grand jury at Morrison did not indict Mrs. Catherine Engle for the murder of her daughter, Lucille, in Sterling. Instead, however, the jury recommended that she be taken before the county judge and a commission be appointed to enquire into her sanity, the jury expressing an opinion that the woman is now and was at the time of the killing of her daughter demented.

TWO NEW MEMBERS
IN READING CIRCLE

A meeting of the Young Men's reading circle, most of the members of which are employees of the Earl grocery store, held a very important meeting last evening at which time two new members, Smith Ayres and Charles Breemer, were given the initiatory work. Because of this the meeting continued until quite late in the evening.

CASE AGAINST COFFEY
COMES UP TOMORROW

The case of the City of Dixon vs. John Coffey, who is charged with blockading River street, which was to have been tried before Justice Kent this afternoon, has been continued until tomorrow on motion of Mr. Coffey, whose attorney found it impossible to be at the hearing this morning. It is evident that the defendant plans to make a strong fight in the case.

CAME TO TOMORROW

The case of the City of Dixon vs. John Coffey, who is charged with blockading River street, which was to have been tried before Justice Kent this afternoon, has been continued until tomorrow on motion of Mr. Coffey, whose attorney found it impossible to be at the hearing this morning. It is evident that the defendant plans to make a strong fight in the case.

Every Bischof Suit
A Masterpiece

One of the first things that will interest you in the new models is the perfect taste displayed in the linings and trimmings.

In order that they may be perfectly matched to the material or offer just the right contrast they are imported especially.

To carry out the latest demand of fashion, linings are bright colored.

But they must be of a shade to go perfectly with the material. This means an unlimited number of samples to select from, that the great mills of the world must contribute.

Nothing is Too Much Trouble

To make every BISCHOF garment a master-piece. Buttons are imported from Austria, woollens from England and braids from France, fashion ideas are gathered from Paris, Berlin and other great style centers.

You will be especially interested in several new models that we have just received.

DEMENT TOWN
DOINGS

We heard a man state this a. m. that it was a fine morning. Needless to say he was a fool dealer.

Josephus Allen maintains likewise it was a fine morning to sleep.

The mule, in addition to being the sleepiest animal on earth, is the kickiest. Likewise with people. The sleepiest usually do the most kicking and the wideawake ones use their feet to run with.

Speaking of automobiles. You never know whether it's a joy ride until it's finished.

A man never gets beat in a horse trade if he gets the horse he wants.

The Reason.

It was married men's night at a revival meeting recently held in Sterling, and the evangelist finally reaching the height of his plea, asked every man who had trouble on his mind to stand up. Every man in the room except one got to his feet and the preacher, startled that this one didn't move, remarked that he was one man in a million. "It ain't that," replied the stranger helplessly, as the rest of the congregation eyed him suspiciously, "I can't get up."

BRONCHITIS CONQUERED

SEVENTY YEARS OLD AND PRAISES WONDERFUL HYOMEI.

"I had a severe attack of LaGrippe. It left me with bronchitis and catarrh of my throat. I became quite deaf in one ear so I could not hear a watch tick. I commenced using your HYOMEI inhaler and soon got relief, and I believe that it saved my life. I have recommended it to many I am over seventy years old. I have told several prominent doctors what it did for me." Wm H. Mowder, Washington, N. J., R. F. D. March 16, 1911.

PROBLEMS OF YOUNG MEN CONSIDERED

Although the usual Sunday rain came down in showers at church time last Sunday evening, yet a good sized audience gathered at the Presbyterian church to hear the first talk on the Problems of a Young Man. These problems as set forth by the pastor, Dr. Cryor, are: The problem of companions, the problem of pleasures, the problem of how to use spare time, the problem of habits, the problem of the choice of life's work, and the problem of character. The last was shown to run all through other problems and to be the most secure when founded on christian principles.

A large chorus choir assisted by Mrs. Lew Edwards as soloist, rendered some fine music. Next Sunday some fine music. Next Sunday night the theme is the Problems of a Young Woman. This is a most important subject, for as woman is, so is civilization and the world.

Miss Christine Odenthal is here visiting her parents on East Third street. She is quite ill with inflammatory rheumatism.

Mt. Carroll, Oct. 4.—Two men, O. M. Mulholland and H. H. He arrested them and put them off at Lanark, where they were turned over to the authorities. They pleaded guilty and were sentenced to a fine of $25 each or 30 days in jail. Not having any ready money they chose the latter and are doing time in jail.

CHAPTER III.

At Sixty Mile they restocked provisions, added a few pounds of letters to their load, and held steadily on. From Forty Mile they had unbroken trail, and they could look forward only to unbroken trail clear to Dyea. Daylight stood it magnificently, but the killing pace was beginning to tell on Kama. His pride kept his mouth shut, but the result of the chilling of his lungs in the cold snap could not be concealed. They traveled till ten o'clock the night they reached Selkirk, and at six next morning they plunged ahead into the next stretch of wilderness of nearly five hundred miles that lay between Selkirk and Dyea. There was no let-up in his pace. Twelve hours a day, six in the twilight and six in the dark, they toiled on the trail. Three hours were consumed in cooking, repairing harnesses, and making and breaking camp, and the remaining nine hours dogs and men slept as if dead.

The time came when Kama was unable to go in the lead and break trail, and it was proof that he was far gone when he permitted Daylight to toll all day at the heavy snowshoe work. Lake by lake they crossed the string of lakes from Marsh to Linderman, and began the ascent of Chilcoot. By all rights Daylight should have camped below the last pitch of the pass at the dim end of day; but he kept on and over and down to Sheep Camp, while behind him raged a snow storm that would have delayed him twenty-four hours. This last excessive strain broke Kama completely. In the morning he could not travel. At five, when called, he sat up after a struggle, groaned, and sank back again. Daylight did the camp work of both, harnessed the dogs, and, when ready for the start, rolled the helpless Indian in all three sleeping robes and lashed him on top of the sled. The going was good; they were on their last legs, and he reined the dogs down through Dyea canyon and along the hard-packed trail that led to Dyea post. And running still, Kama groaning on top the lead, and Daylight leaping at the gee-pole to avoid going under the runners of the flying sled, they arrived at Dyea by the sea. True to his promise, Daylight did not stop. An hour's time saw the sled loaded with the ingoing mail and grub, fresh dogs harnessed and a fresh Indian engaged. Kama never spoke from the time of his arrival till the moment Daylight, ready to depart, stood beside him to say good-by. They shook hands.

"You kill um, dat damn Indian," Kama said. "Savvee, Daylight? You kill um."

"He'll sure last as far as Polly," Daylight grinned.

Kama shook his head doubtfully, and rolled over on his side, turning his back in token of farewell.

A crowd filled the Tivoli—the old crowd that had seen Daylight depart two months before; for this was the night of the sixtieth day, and opinion was divided as ever as to whether or not he would compass the achievement. At ten o'clock bells were still being made, though the odds rose, bet by bet, against his success. Down in her heart the Virgin believed he had failed, yet she made a bet of twenty ounces with Charley Bates, against forty ounces, that Daylight would arrive before midnight.

The Time Came When Kama Was Unable to Go in the Lead.

She it was who heard the first yelps of the dogs.

"Listen!" she cried. "It's Daylight!"

There was a general stampede for the door; but when the double storm-doors were thrown wide open, the crowd fell back. They heard the eager whining of dogs, the snap of a dog-whip and the voice of Daylight crying encouragement as the weary animals capped all they had done by dragging the sled in over the wooden floor. They came in with a rush, and with them rushed in the frost, a visible vapor of smoking white, through which their heads and backs showed, as they strained in the harness, till they had all the seeming of swimming in a river. Behind them, at the gee-pole, came Daylight, hidden to the knees by the swirling frost through which he appeared to wade. He was the same old Daylight, with lean and tired-looking, and his black eyes were sparkling and flashing brighter than ever. His parka of cotton drill hooded him like a monk, and fell in straight lines to his knees. Grimed and scorched by camp-smoke and fire, the garment in itself told the story of his trip. A two-months' beard covered his face; and the beard, in turn, was matted with the ice of his breathing through the long seventy-mile run.

He experienced a thrill of surprise as the roar of welcome went up and as every familiar detail of the Tivoli greeted his vision—the long bar and the array of bottles, the gambling games, the big stove, the welter at the gold-scales, the musicians, the men and women, the Virgin, Cella, and Nellie, Dan MacDonald, Bettles, Billy Rawlins, Olaf Henderson, Doc Watson—all of them. It was just as he had left it, and in all seeming it might well be the very day he had left. The sixty days of incessant travel through the white wilderness suddenly telescoped, and had no existence in time. They were a moment, an incident. He had plunged out and into them through the wall of silence, and back through the wall of silence he had plunged, apparently the next instant, and into the roar and turmoil of the Tivoli.

He drew a deep breath and cried: "The winner pays, and I'm the winner, ain't I? Surge up, you all! Male-mutes and Stewashes, and name your poison! There's your Dyea mail, straight from Salt Water, and no horns-swoogin about it! Cast the lashings adrift, you-all, and wade into it!"

A dozen pairs of hands were at the sled-lashings, when the young Le Barge Indian, bending at the same task, suddenly and limply straightened up. In his eyes was a great surprise. He stared about him wildly, for the thing he was undergoing was new to him. He was profoundly struck by an unguessed limitation. He shook as with a palsy, and he gave at the knees, slowly sinking down to fall suddenly across the sled and to know the smacking blow of darkness across his consciousness.

"Exhaustion," said Daylight. "Take him off and put him to bed, some of you-all. He's sure a good Indian."

A few minutes later, Daylight was whirling around the dance-floor, waltzing with the Virgin. And small wonder it was that the Virgin yielded herself to his arms, as they danced dance after dance, and sick at heart at the knowledge that he found nothing in her more than a good friend and an excellent dancer. Small consolation it was to know that he never loved any woman. She was sick with love of him, and he danced with her as he would dance with any woman, as he would dance with a man who was a good dancer and upon whose arm was tied a handkerchief to conventionalize him into a woman.

At one in the morning he saw Elijah Davis herding Henry Finn and Joe Hines, the lumber-jack, toward the door. Daylight interfered.

"Where are you all going?" he demanded, attempting to draw them to the bar.

"Bed," Elijah Davis answered.

"Got to," Joe Hines added apologetically. "We're musing out in the mornin'."

Daylight still detained them.

"Where to? What's the excitement?"

"No excitement," Elijah explained. "We're just a-goin' to play your hunch, an' tackle the Upper Country. Don't you want to come along?"

"I sure do," Daylight affirmed.

But the question had been put in fun, and Elijah ignored the acceptance.

"We're takin' the Stewart," he went on. "A Mayo told me he seen some likely lookin' barg first time he come down the Stewart, and we're goin' to sample 'em while the river's froze. You listen, Daylight, an' mark my words, the time's comin' when winter diggin's 'll be all the go. There'll be men in them days that'll laugh at our summer scratchin' an' ground-wallerin'."

Elijah laughed, gathered his two partners up, and was making a second attempt to reach the door.

"Hold on," Daylight called. "I sure mean it."

The three men turned back suddenly upon him, in their faces surprise, delight, and incredulity.

"Gwan, you're foolin'," said Finn, the other lumber-jack, a quiet, steady,

Wisconsin man.

"There's my dawgs and sled," Daylight answered. "That'll make two teams and halve the loads; though we-all 'll have to travel easy for a spell, for them dawgs is sure tired."

The three men were overjoyed, but still a trifle incredulous.

"Now look here," Joe Hines blurted out, "none of your foolin', Daylight. We mean business. Will you come?" Daylight extended his hand and shook.

Women and Banking.

The cashier of a bank which has many women depositors, in speaking of these customers, said that the stock stories about overdrawn accounts and ignorance as to bank methods had become pointless. Whatever may have been the case before, women give banks no more trouble now than men.

"The woman who insists on drawing money when her balance has been exhausted because there are still blank checks in her book has disappeared, and in her place we have a woman who wants interest on her money and who knows what 'call money' means," said the cashier. Referring to the 'old kind,' he added: "One day we did have a real case. A woman rushed in, said she had just figured up her account and found she was $500 short. Husband away—no other money—what could she do? She had brought jewels to leave as collateral security till he returned, and then we looked up the matter and found she had over $800 to her credit."—New York Tribune.

A Dance Without a Smile.

They have a singular kind of dance conducted on the greens of country villages in Russia. The dancers stand apart, a knot of young men here, a knot of maidens there, each sex by itself and silent as a crowd of mutes. A piper breaks into a tune. A youth pulls off his cap and challenges his girl with a wave and a bow. If the girl is willing she waves her handkerchief in token of assent. The youth advances, takes a corner of the handkerchief in his hand and leads his lassie round and round. No word is spoken, and no laugh is heard. Stiff with cords and rich with braids, the girl moves heavily by herself, going round and round and never allowing her partner to touch her hand. The pipe goes droning on for hours in the same sad key and measure, and the prize of merit in this "circling," as the dance is called, is given by spectators to the lassie who in all that summer revelry has never spoken and never smiled.

Wanted More Converts.

Southey in his life of Wesley relates the following whimsical incident. He states that some of the opponents of these religionists in the excess of zeal against enthusiasm took up a whole wagon load of Methodists and carried them before a justice. When they were asked what these persons had done there was an awkward silence. At last one of the accusers said: "Why, they pretended to be better than other people, and, besides, they pray from morning till night."

The magistrate asked if they had done nothing else.

"Yes, sir," an old man said. "An't please your worship, they have converted my wife. Till she went among them she had such a tongue, and now she is as quiet as a lamb."

"Carry them back," carry them back," the magistrate said, "and let them convert all the scolds in the town!"

Icebergs and Echoes.

Icebergs are always a source of worry to the transatlantic steamship skippers. It isn't pleasant to run along through a fog or a murky night and smash into one of these floating mountains of ice. The liner captains have a way of finding ice that at first strikes the landsman as curious. When it is suspected there are bergs in the neighborhood the whistle is kept going. If there is an echo the navigator slows down and keeps a sharp eye out, for echoes don't grow in the open ocean.

Disraeli's Gorgeous Costume.

When Disraeli was a young man he once went on a vacation trip to Corfu in this extraordinary costume: "A blood red shirt with silver buttons as big as shillings, an immense scarf for girdle, full of pistols and daggers; red cap, red slippers, broad blue striped jacket and trousers. His servant, engaged for the occasion, wore a Mameluke dress of crimson and gold, with a white turban thirty yards long and a sash glittering like a rainbow."—London Spectator.

The Difficulty.

The First Worker—Manner born be blowed! D'joo mean ter say if me an' you come into a bit o' splosh we couldn't keep our ends up with these 'ere dooks and people?

His Doubting Friend—Oh, we should be orf right, but our missuses 'd give the game away, yer know.—London Sketch.

The Landlubber.

They were enlightening the landlubber as to maritime matters. He was becoming more and more crestfallen as their explanations progressed.

"Why, I always thought," he sadly sighed, "that the port side of a ship was the one nearest port!"—Boston Herald.

Maddening.

"They really fear she will become insane. You see, she found a diary he kept before he married her."

"Oh, I see! And the awful revelations?"

"Revelations? No. It was all in cipher, and she couldn't read a word of it."—London Tit Bits.

PRISON FOR SLUGGERS

Alleged Labor Thugs Are Sentenced in Chicago.

Three of the Men Given Their Liberty Until Writ of Superseas Can Be Granted or Refused.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Peter Gentleman, Edward Storgaard, William ("Red") O'Connor, labor sluggers, who were convicted some time ago for assaulting Morgan H. Bell, steamfitter, at the Hygienic ice plant on April 20, were sentenced by Judge Marcus Kavanagh to serve terms of from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary.

All except Gentleman were allowed their liberty until Saturday that their counsel might go to Springfield in an attempt to obtain a writ of superseas to keep them out of the penitentiary until the supreme court has either granted or denied a new trial.

Previous to the men being found guilty of assaulting Bell, Gentleman was found guilty of attempted burglary and sentenced to imprisonment for from one to five years. On account of this he was taken back to the penitentiary and his sentence will begin at the termination of the attempted burglary term.

Owing to the fact that the testimony given in the trial was not as strong against O'Connor as his alleged accomplices, Judge Kavanagh offered him leniency, telling him that if he wished to change his plea of not guilty to guilty he would sentence him to nine months in the house of correction.

"I don't believe O'Connor belongs in this crowd," said Judge Kavanagh, "and if he will change his plea from not guilty to guilty I will set aside the verdict of the jury and sentence him to nine months in the house of correction."

Attorney Wray then asked for time in which to consult his client. The result was a refusal of the offer.

The men sentenced were charged with having gone to the ice plant accompanied by a number of other sluggers, all armed with revolvers and at the point of weapons having forced the men at work there to leave the building.

SPRINGFIELD FOR REFORM

Commission Passes Regulations That Liquor Dealers Prepare to Fight.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—The city commission passed three separate ordinances. They provide Sunday closing of saloons, removal of screens, and an increase of the present $500 annual license to $1,000. Liquor interests have petitioned for a referendum election on a previous ordinance providing a nominal license fee for the bartenders and barring saloons within 100 feet of a church.

The new ordinances will likely be voted upon at his same election, and the hottest fight Springfield ever had over saloon regulations is expected.

FINE CLOTHES HIS UNDOING

Boy's Waywardness Lands Him in Workhouse.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Elmer Kelley, nineteen years old, who says he is the son of J. T. Kelley, a wealthy business man of Los Angeles, Cal., was sentenced to thirty days in the Bridge-well, in Municipal Judge Walker's court, on a charge of operating a confidence game. He said that love of fine clothes had caused his trouble.

He was arrested after he had given worthless checks for clothes costing several hundred dollars, including some $10 hats and $5 scarfs.

KILLED BY BLAST IN MINE

One Victim Only in Idle Works Where 300 Men Usually Labor.

Harrisburg, Ill., Oct. 4.—Paul Wilmoth, son of Baxter Wilmoth of this city, was killed, and twelve workmen were badly burned in a gas explosion at the Wasson mine, north of this city. The mine has been idle for a week, and the men were at work repairing and laying track. Usually 300 men are employed.

Shoots Girl; Kills Himself.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 4.—Because she refused to respond to his importunities to marry him, Erskine S. Walker shot Miss Magdelene Komp, telephone operator at the Harper house, through the body and then shot and killed himself. The girl may die.

Killed by a Strike Breaker.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 4.—Robert Mitchell, an Illinois Central switchman, was shot and killed in the railroad yards at Mounds, near here, by a machinist, one of the several brought here to take the place of strikers. The slayer was discharged for incompetency.

Peoria Man May Be Suicide.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 4.—Frederick Olander, ex-city alderman and ex-county treasurer, was found dead in one of the cottages at the Upper Beach. It is thought that Mr. Olander committed suicide by shooting because of ill health.

Boy Dies of Hydrophobia.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Walter Krueger, four years old, died of hydrophobia. He was bitten by a mad dog Sept. 1.

STRIKE RIOTS BEGUN

Violence Marks Labor Troubles at Various Points.

McComb, Miss., Houston, Tex., and Mounds, Ill., Scenes of Outbreaks.—National Guard Called.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Violence at several points throughout the south marked the progress of the strike on the Illinois Central and the Harriman railroads.

An Illinois Central train carrying strike-breakers to New Orleans was attacked by a mob of 300 strike sympathizers at McComb, Miss. The coaches were riddled with bullets as the train sped through the city. The entire Third regiment of the Mississippi National Guard was ordered to proceed to McComb, following the riot.

At Houston a special officer of the Southern Pacific railroad was shot and killed, as he was escorting a party of strike-breakers into the yards of the company. Another special officer in the party was wounded, but the police could not learn who fired the shots.

Following an investigation they said the shots came from inside the gates, conveying the intimation that special guards of the company were in peril.

In the yards of the Illinois Central at Mounds, near Cairo, a switchman was shot and seriously wounded by a machinist who had been hired as a strike-breaker, but who was discharged because of incompetency.

The man was placed under arrest and the jail at Mounds was guarded to prevent an attack by an infuriated mob.

IGNORE ROAD'S ULTIMATUM

Union Pacific Strikers in Nebraska Vote Their Defiance.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4.—Union Pacific railroad strikers, both in Omaha and at Grand Island, showing their determination when, by a unanimous vote, they refused to accept the ultimatum issued by the road officials to return to work by Wednesday noon or consider themselves discharged.

At both points the strikers voted to simply ignore the ultimatum of the road.

REPUDIATES HIS CONFESSION

Dr. Webster Says He Was Forced into False Statements by Police.

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 4.—Dr. Henry E. Webster of Chicago, held here for the murder of his wife, Bessie Kent Webster, repudiated the confession he made at the East Chicago avenue station.

"I did not say I killed her," he told his attorney, Francis J. Callahan. "They subjected me to every torture imaginable and they confused me so that I said things I meant for the purpose of getting away from my torturers. This woman had threatened my life repeatedly. She trailed me to my home and I believe she intended to kill me. She had a pearl-handled pistol her mother gave her, and I believe she meant to use it the day she went to Dixon."

"Dixon friends of the doctor have come to the front and have raised a fund for his defense," said Attorney Callahan. "One woman, a very wealthy widow, whom the doctor knew years ago, has volunteered to furnish $50,000 if necessary to have him released."

KELLEY'S ISLAND TRAGEDY

Three Italians Slain by Two Others and Bodies Cast into Lake.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—Ohio authorities in Pittsburg unfolded details of the terrible tragedy of Kelley's Island, in which three men were slain and their bodies cast into Lake Erie, in order that two men could divide the spoils of $1,600 stolen from the victims.

Louis Vachia and Dominic Selaggio, Italians, will be taken from Pittsburg to Sandusky, O., to stand trial for the murder of the other three men.

DR. HYDE ON TRIAL AGAIN

Attorneys Agree in Swope Murder Case—Venue Change Asked.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 4.—Dr. D. Clark Hyde will be placed on trial a second time Oct. 16 on a charge of murdering Colonel Thomas H. Swope. This statement was made by attorneys for the prosecution and the defense.

Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Dr. Hyde, said he would go before Judge Latschaw and ask for a change of venue. This, it is expected, will be granted, and Judge Porterfield will be asked to hear the case.

Dr. H. W. Wiley Wins.

Washington, Oct. 4.—For the present at least the word of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley will be law in the enforcement of the pure food act. An arrangement to this end was perfected at a four-hour conference between James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, and Dr. Wiley.

PRESIDENT IN DENVER

Tells State Committee He Hopes for Republican Success.

At Public Lands Convention Taft Meets Crowds Who Oppose His Conservation Policy.

Denver, Oct. 4.—President Taft told of his hopes for the success of the Republican party. Speaking to the members of the Colorado Republican state central committee and other members of the Republican organization here, he said he was very hopeful that when the voters of the country should realize the party's intention to fulfill its promises to revise the tariff along scientific lines, that those Republicans who withheld their votes in the last congressional election would return to their places and continue the party in power.

In another speech President Taft told an audience of 12,000 western anti-conservationists at the Public Lands convention that he disagreed with their attitude to the administration's conservation policy.

He said that their opposition to conservation was as radical on its side as was the extreme conservationists' desire for more restrictive legislation. The president simply applied the "middle of the road" policy to the conservation question. He pointed out that it would do them no good to abuse people and pass resolutions.

"I am the president of the whole people and what I am trying to do is to get you together. It isn't talk, it isn't abuse, it isn't making that accomplishes anything. It is getting on that counts. It is the real development of the country that we are after."

The president left for Cheyenne, Wyo., at midnight.
